

Started using again,
Left my heart in rocky hill, hole burning in my head
Needed a distraction from my head
Devil on my shoulder said try this instead, so I started using again.

Started sleeping again,
Traded late nights and sheep for Vicodin.
The guilt burning in my chest set in.
I started sleeping again.

I stopped wishing I was dead.
Learned to love myself before anyone else.
Become more than just a burden,
I know I'm more than worthy of your time.

Started smoking again.
Guess I missed coughing my lungs up every morning.
Needed anything to keep me breathing,
To prevent my blood from bleeding, started smoking again.

Started loving again.
Thought when I lost that will to live,
I could never feel again.
I'll give it one more shot and let someone in.

I started loving again. I started loving again.
I started loving again. I started loving again.

I stopped wishing I was dead!
Learned to love myself before anyone else.
Become more than just a burden.
I know I'm more than worthy of your time.

I'm more than worthy of your time.
I'm more than worthy of your time.
