

Say you love my personality-why thank you it's yours. I figured out how to mirror you as you walked in the door.
Tell me about yourself. I just wanna be adored. Tell me to be myself.
Yeah I tried that before and I couldn't settle on a thing. I think I'm not anything.

The battery is dead, battery is dead, battery is dead.
Battery is dead, battery is dead, too many people in my head.
People in my head, people in my head, people in my head, people in my head.

And I panic when I have to meet up in a group, and I got to decide who to be but I don't know who.
And I panic when I think I'm gonna get found out,
'Cause I just wanna get you to like me and I know exactly how.

And it's a habit, I just pretend to be whoever I'm with. I can be anyone I want, and maybe it's a gift.
And when they really wanna know what I'm all about, and I really wanna tell 'em and I open my mouth, I panic.

"Never trust someone that everyone likes." My skin starts to crawl when I hear that advice.
'Cause I don't know who I go to bed with every night, but pretending gets easier every time.
I don't know who's controlling me. I'm detached from reality.

The battery is dead, battery is dead, battery is dead,
Battery is dead, battery is dead, I'm just repeating what you said.
Repeating what you said, repeating what you said, repeating what you said, repeating what you said.

And I panic when I have to meet up in a group, and I got to decide who to be but I don't know who.
And I panic when I think I'm gonna get found out,
'Cause I just wanna get you to like me and I know exactly how.
And it's a habit, I just pretend to be whoever I'm with, I can be anyone I want, and maybe it's a gift.
And when they really wanna know what I'm all about, and I really wanna tell 'em and I open my mouth I panic.

You say you know me, but I don't even know me, but I know you, yeah I know you, I know you.
You feel so close to me, you like this version of me. It's 'cause I made it for you, I made it for you.

I'm a chameleon, and they say it's just fitting in, but it feels like I'm slipping when I step out of my door,
And then I have to reinvent myself again. I don't know who the hell I am. This body that I'm living in

You look at me and I panic when I have to meet up in a group
And I got to decide who to be but I don't know who, and I panic when I think I'm gonna get found out,
