

Can I wish on a star for another life?
'Cause it feels like I'm all on my own tonight,
And I find myself in pieces.

There are pills on the table and a thought in my head,
And I walk through the halls where I used to be led.
My heart is filled with reasons.

I'm tryin' to be somebody else. I'm findin' it hard to love myself.
I've wanted to be somebody new, but that is impossible to do.
I'm runnin' out of my mind. Is this really my life?
I'm runnin' out of time. Is this really my life, my life?

I could run from it all but I'd only get lost.
Oh, I've walked on the bridge that I shouldn't have crossed,
And I find myself, a user.

Oh, I wake every day with addictions to feed.
They all call me a friend but I'll never be freed,
From the face of a faithless future.

I'm tryin' to be somebody else. I'm findin' it hard to love myself.
I've wanted to be somebody new, but that is impossible to do.
I'm runnin' out of my mind. Is this really my life?
I'm runnin' out of time. Is this really my life, my life?

These years pass by, and we're growin' older,
And I think of you, all we've made it through.
Some have passed away, some have moved on.
But I'm still here today, (I'm here today).

These years pass by and I'm growin' older,
And I think of you, and all we've made it through.
Some have passed away, there's no words to say.
No second tries, is this my life? And I think of you.

I'm runnin' out of my mind.
Is this really my life?
I'm runnin' out of time.
Is this really my life, my life?